What you need to do now

Review your application and consider the number of claims you would like examined.

Things to be aware of

- Excess claims fees apply to specifications with more than 20 claims proposed at the time of examination. You can file amendments to your specification prior to commencement of examination to reduce or avoid excess claims fee liability. Amendments filed in anticipation of examination are free of charge. Please refer to the IP Australia website for information on timeframes and fees.
- Monitor and pay your continuation fees – fees are due annually. Your next continuation fee is due on 02 August 2026. Information about fees may be obtained by visiting timeframes and fees page on our website.
